CHAMPIONSHIP QUALIFICATIONS

A player must have a minimum of 502 plate appearances (at-bats, walks, hit-by-pitch, sacrifices, sacrifice flies and catcher's interference) to qualify for a major league batting-percentage championship.

If a batter falls short of 502 plate appearances, he might still be determined the batting champion if by adding a sufficient number of at-bats to his record to bring his plate appearances up to 502, his average based on these additional at-bats is still the highest in the league. His actual average, however, would be the official.

To qualify for the ERA title, a pitcher must pitch a minimum of 162 innings.

DID YOU KNOW???

. . . that there've been 66 homeruns hit into the rightfield second deck in the Metrodome, 17 of them in 1987 . . . including one in the 6th game of the World Series by St. Louis' Tommy Herr. The 16 in regular season equals the 1986 high. The Twins have hit 28 of the 66 '2nd-deckers,' led by Kent Hrbek's 19 (8 of them in 1986). Randy Bush has 5, Roy Smalley 3, and Randy Johnson 1 for the Twins. Eddie Murray is the only opposition player with 3 such. Harold Baines, Tony Bernazard, Daryl Boston, Cecil Cooper, Wayne Gross, Wally Joyner, Oddibe McDowell and Mike Pagliarulo have 2 each and 19 other players have one apiece. Bernazard is the only player to hit 2 in a game, June 23, 1987, off Mike Smithson, while Ben Oglivie hit the longest, 481-ft., July 27, 1983, off Brad Havens.

DID YOU KNOW???

. . . that the longest game, by innings, ever played in the Metrodome was a 16-inning, 6-2, Texas win over the Twins on June 11, 1986, and the longest by time was a 13-inning, 3-2, Twins' win over the Rangers, June 6, 1987 . . . 4 hrs., 53 min. Curiously, each of these games followed by a day one of the two games which are tied for the honor of being the highest-scoring game in Metrodome annals.

EARNED-RUNS RULE

The determination of earned-runs is as follows:

'An earned-run is a run for which the pitcher is held accountable. In determining earned-runs, the inning should be reconstructed without the errors and passed balls, and the benefit of the doubt should always be given to the pitcher in determining which bases would have been reached with errorless play.'

Until 1969, a reliefer could not be charged with an earned-run if he entered the game after the side could have been retired but for an error, no matter how many runs he subsequently gave up in that inning. Now, runs scored by batters who reach base off the reliefer are charged as earned on that pitcher's record. They are not, however, charged as earned against the team as a whole. Therefore, a discrepancy may occur between the total earned-runs charged against a team and the sum total of the earned-runs charged against the individual pitchers of that team.

DID YOU KNOW???

. . . that only twice have 'position' players pitched in a game for the Twins. On September 10, 1961, in Kansas City, first baseman Julio Becquer, a lefthander, came in to pitch the last 1.1 innings of the Twins' 13-1 loss in the first game of a doubleheader. Julio gave up 3 runs on 4 hits and a walk. The second occasion was on September 22, 1968, when handyman Cesar Tovar played all 9 positions for the Twins against Oakland at Metropolitan Stadium. Cesar pitched the first inning and set the A's down without a score. He walked Danny Cater . . . but fanned Reggie Jackson! The Twins went on to win, 2-1, with Tom Hall the winning pitcher.

SAVES RULE

Credit a pitcher with a save when he meets all three of the following conditions:

(1) He is the finishing pitcher in a game won by his club; and
(2) He is not the winning pitcher; and
(3) He qualifies under one of the following conditions:
  (a) He enters the game with a lead of no more than three runs and pitches for at least one inning; or
  (b) He enters the game with the potential tying run either on base, at bat or on deck; or
  (c) He pitches effectively for at least three innings.

No more than one save may be credited in each game.

DID YOU KNOW???

. . . that only once in their 27 seasons have the Twins won 3 games in a row by the same score. They beat Boston on September 3, 1987, 2-1, and followed with 2-1 victories over Milwaukee the next 2 days . . . all 3 games in the Metrodome. The Twins once lost 3 in a row by the same score, as well. They were also 2-1 games, July 21-23, 1967, in California. There've been 11 other occasions when 3 straight Twins' games wound up with the same score, but with different winners.

DID YOU KNOW???

. . . that when Bert Blyleven pitched in the 1987 American League Championship Series he tied Nolan Ryan's record for 'most years between first and last series,' 17. Blyleven last pitched in the ALCS in 1970 for the Twins, while Ryan had a similar stretch in the National League Championship Series between his appearances with the New York Mets in 1969 and the Houston Astros in 1986.

DID YOU KNOW???

. . . that the longest homerun ever hit in the Metrodome was hit to the 2nd deck in rightfield by Milwaukee's Ben Oglivie off Brad Havens, July 27, 1983, a 481-ft. clout! Kansas City's Bo Jackson holds the longest shot to centerfield, 466-ft., belted off Bert Blyleven, June 10, 1987. Twin Kirby Puckett hit the longest boomer to leftfield, 459-ft., off Boston's Wes Gardner, September 3, 1987. The longest ever hit by a Twin in the dome, however, belongs to Kent Hrbek, who orbited a 480-ft. shot to rightfield off Texas' Charlie Hough, September 9, 1984.

DID YOU KNOW???

. . . that the Twins are one of just four franchises to have won World Championships in different cities. The Twins won in Washington in 1924, as the Senators, and copped again in Minnesota last year. The other 'across the miles' winners are the Dodgers (Brooklyn and Los Angeles), the Braves (Boston and Milwaukee) and the Athletics (Philadelphia and Oakland).

DID YOU KNOW???

. . . that when the Twins and the Cardinals opposed each other in the 1987 World Series it marked the first time since 1959 (White Sox and Dodgers) that the two leagues' club-fielding leaders faced each other in the Series.

DID YOU KNOW???

. . . that the most successful calendar date on which the Twins have at least ten decisions is April 8, when they've gone 9-1, .900, over the years. Next best is July 13, when they're 15-3, .833. The club's poorest performance has been on June 9. On that date, they have a 5-20, .200, record.

DID YOU KNOW???

. . . that the Twins' record was under .500 only twice during the 1987 season. They were 20-21 after games of May 22, and 21-22 after May 24. In 1970 and 1979, the Twins were never less than one game over .500, and in 1965 they dipped to an even .500 on only one occasion.

DID YOU KNOW???

. . . that when Bert Blyleven and Danny Cox started against each other in the second game of the 1987 World Series it marked just the first time in World Series history that European-born pitchers opposed each other as starters. Both Blyleven and Cox have started previous World Series games but only one other European has ever started a World Series game. That was George Chalmers of the Philadelphia Phillies who lost to Boston, 2-1, in the fourth game of the 1915 World Series.

DID YOU KNOW???

. . . that Kent Hrbek is the most prolific homerun-hitter ever in the Metrodome, with 81 roundtrippers over his six seasons. Kent's 20 homers in the Metrodome in 1987 is the one-season high in the building for an individual. Careerwise, Tom Brunansky (78) and Gary Gaetti (68) are chasing Hrbek. Where opposition players are concerned, Ron Kittle leads the pack with 11.

THE DESIGNATED HITTER

In the American League, a batter may be designated to bat for the starting pitcher, and for all subsequent pitchers in any game without otherwise affecting the status of the pitcher(s) in the game. A designated hitter, for the pitcher only, must be selected prior to the game and must be included in the lineup card presented to the umpire-in-chief. He must always bat in the position assigned him on the lineup card.

It is not mandatory that a club designate a hitter for the pitcher, but failure to do so prior to the game precludes the use of a designated hitter for that game.

The designated hitter may be used defensively once the game is underway, continuing to bat in the same position in the batting order, but the pitcher must then bat in the place of the substituted defensive player.

Pinch-hitters for designated hitters may be used. Any substitute hitter for a designated hitter himself becomes a designated hitter, and a replaced designated hitter shall not re-enter the game in any capacity.

A runner may be substituted for the designated hitter and that runner assumes the role of the designated hitter.

Should the game pitcher be switched from the mound to a defensive position, this move shall terminate the designated hitter role for the remainder of the game.

Once a pinch-hitter bats for any player in the batting order and then enters the game to pitch, this move shall terminate the designated hitter role for the remainder of the game.

A designated hitter may not also be used as a pinch-runner.

The designated hitter is eligible for all American League batting titles.

DID YOU KNOW???

. . . that Kent Hrbek once hit three grand-slam homeruns in the Metrodome in less than a month's time. Kent connected off New York's Brian Fisher on July 18, 1985, repeated off Baltimore's Storm Davis four days later, and belted one off Seattle's Bob Long on August 15.

THE METRODOME

This is the Twins' seventh season in the beautiful new Hubert H. Humphrey Metrodome, the second domed facility to come into use in the American League and the third in the majors.

The Twins' first 21 seasons in Minnesota were played in Metropolitan Stadium in Bloomington, where the club led the American League in total attendance for their first ten years of operations, 1961-70, with an overall draw of 13,264,656.

Construction began on the Metrodome on December 23, 1979. It's located on a 22-acre site in the Industry Square district just east of downtown Minneapolis and just west of the West Bank campus of the University of Minnesota. The site is at the juncture of Interstate Highways 94 and 35W.

The stadium itself occupies an area of 415,000 square feet. It's 745 feet to the north and south, 632 feet to the east and west. Homeplate is located in the southwest corner of the building. The interior volume is 70,000,000 cubic feet, and there's a drop of 186 feet from the highest point of the domed ceiling to the middle of the playing field, which is 47 feet below street level.

The playing surface is Astroturf. The dome is made of two layers of 1/8-inch-thick teflon-coated fiberglass, and it's supported by from 3 to 6 pounds of air pressure per square foot.

There are 36 rows of seats in the lower deck, 32 in the upper deck. In rightfield, 7600 seats in the lower deck are retractable to accommodate baseball, reducing the overall capacity to 55,244 for baseball. All seats are the folding armchair type of plastic construction.

There are eight entrances to the Metrodome. The four corner entrances open into the first deck. The four side entrances are reached by outside earthen ramps and they open into the second-deck seating area. The Twins' executive and ticket offices may be reached via a west entrance on Chicago Avenue South.

Field dimensions are 343-feet down the leftfield line, 385 to the leftfield power alley, 408 to dead centerfield, 367 to the power alley in rightcenter, and 327 down the line to right. The fence is 13-ft. high in left, 7-ft. in center and 23-ft. in right.

The Metrodome was built under a $55,000,000 grant approved by the Minnesota State Legislature in their 1977 session.

DID YOU KNOW???

. . . that three 1988 Twins' pitchers rank among the top 15 major league winners of the '80s. Steve Carlton and Joe Niekro are tied for 6th with 104 wins from 1980 to 1987, and Bert Blyleven is 15th at 96 victories. Detroit's Jack Morris leads with 141, and Los Angeles' Fernando Valenzuela tops the National League at 113.
